

This is Author Guide

Author: Authors can submit manuscripts to the journal directly through its website. The author is asked to upload submission files and provide metadata or indexing information (metadata enhances the search capabilities of online papers and articles for the journal). The author can upload multiple files, in the form of spreadsheets, research tools, or textual sources that will enrich his article, all to contribute to a scientific and research product characterized by authenticity and openness.

The author can track his application during the review and editing stages - and can also participate in the proofreading and corrective reading of his works accepted for publication - by logging in to the journal's website.

The screenshot displays the website's interface. At the top, a green header contains the journal's name, "Journal of Architecture and Planning", and navigation links for "Register" and "Login". Below the header, a white sidebar on the left features a "Login" section with input fields for "Username or Email" and "Password", a "Keep me logged in" checkbox, and "Register" and "Login" buttons. A central text box with a red border and background contains the instruction: "Before start use system you must register an account". To the right, a "Make a Submission" button and a "Language" dropdown menu (showing "العربية" and "English") are visible. The footer of the page states: "Open Journal Systems Hosting and Support by: OpenJournalSystems.com".
